NINE POINTS OF "Exide"

That is the title of an interesting little folder for distribution among automobile owners. In it is illustrated and described the various parts entering into the building of the "Exide" automobile starting and lighting battery. It shows conclusively that the right battery for your car is an "Exide." A copy will be mailed upon request.

Call for a Free Battery Test. We'll advise you regarding the condition of your battery and the proper care of it, add water to the cells if necessary and hand you your copy of the folder referred to.

"GRAND BALL" GIVEN THIRTY YEARS AGO.

The Cynthiana Democrat this week reproduced an account of a "Leap Year" dance given by the young women of Cynthiana thirty years ago, in which a number of Paris people participated. The article was clipped from a copy of The Democrat and pasted in an old scrap book. It gives in detail a comprehensive "write-up" of the dance, a list of the dancers and their "lady escorts" with a description of the costumes worn by the latter. Under the heading "Description of Toilets" appears these names of Paris young men:
Walter Champ, of Paris, escort, Miss Cora Robertson; blue crepe, cardinal trimming.
Harry Stout, of Paris, escort, Miss Lizzie Keller, cream white nun's veiling and flowers.
Bruce Miller, of Paris, escort, Miss Bertie Wolford; white satin costume, pointed bodice, full skirt, shoulder gloves.
The Democrat, in commenting on the dance, adds:
"The ball was held at Aeolian Hall—now Rohs' Opera House and the superb supper was in the dining room of the Smith House, then in charge of 'Aunt Liz' Smith and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bettie Keller. Music for the dance was by Saxton & Trost, of Lexington. The girls invited the men, of course, as it was a leap year affair. A brief mention of some of the couples will be of interest, showing in some instances that the 'sweet-hearts' of that day are the married people of to-day. A number who enjoyed the event have long since passed over the divide, but many are yet living 'to tell the tale.' A large number of couples were here from surrounding counties and the ladies' costumes are all described; but the account would occupy about three columns of The Democrat, so that only local couples can be mentioned here."

REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA HERE JULY 6.

The Redpath Chautauqua comes to Paris for the first time, next Tuesday, July 6, and continuing to July 13, with a varied and timely program of amusement and instruction features.
Local guarantors predict that this season's Chautauqua will be the most successful Paris has ever experienced. The program, besides furnishing entertainment and amusement, aims to bring before the people discussions of the new social and economic conditions, the trend toward Bolshevism, unsettled industrial situations, radical changes in the standard of living, increasing costs of living necessities, the inroads made by disease, and the lack of human efficiency in almost all lines of human endeavor.
The story telling, work this year will be more emphasized than ever, and the entire program will be one that will please both old and young. The musical features of the program will be especially pleasing. Mr. W. L. Cochran will be superintendent of the Chautauqua program in this city.

STOCK, CROP, ETC.

A large shipment of lambs, about 1,200 in all, was made from Paris, Wednesday, by Caywood & McClintock. The lambs were purchased at the prevailing market price of fourteen cents a pound. Farmers estimate that Bourbon county will send close to 45,000 choice lambs to the markets this season, which will bring in a revenue of over $500,000.

PRESENT HIGHWAY HEAD GETS REAPPOINTED

Joe S. Boggs, of Richmond, present Commissioner of Public Highways, was elected State Highway Engineer by the State Highway Commission. Mr. Boggs is a Democrat and has been Commissioner of Public Highways since last summer when Rodney Wilky resigned. His selection will meet with general approval by more than two hundred citizens of the State, various automobile clubs, and road interests in all parts of Kentucky.

The State Highway Commission appointed by Gov. Morrow is bipartisan, Mr. Monahan and Ben Weille, of Paducah, Democrats, and Green Garrett, of Winchester, and H. H. Asher, of Pineville, Republicans.
The Commission organized by electing Green Garrett chairman and Ben Weille, secretary.

TAX THE LOAFER

The occupation tax is right and just, but the man who has no occupation at all should be made to pay for using the town as a loafing place. Not many men would care about going out in the woods and lean up against a tree day after day, but there must be some benefit derived from leaning against a building, the door casing of a business house, or on the show case of a merchant's store. There would be nothing very exciting in taking a soap box out into the pasture, tilting it against the fence and watching the cows go by, but a seat in front of a hotel or even the curbing evidently has some value to the loafer for which he should be made to pay. The fact that people congregate in a town, should give the town a social value which is as real as some of the trading advantages, and those who appropriate this advantage should pay for it.
